

MICKEY REPORT WAS A MISUNDERSTANDING

Atty James Banda, Chairman of the Wilmington Planning Board took upon his shoulders, early Wednesday morning any blame attached to the now famous 'Mickey' report which was given out in the Town Meeting of a week ago.

The admission came at the end of the Tuesday night meeting of the board, which lasted until nearly 1 am.

It was quite clear that Mr Banda had not been present at the time that the rest of the committee had decided on the report to be given.

The board members had been meeting Tuesday evening in an air of subdued excitement, which was interrupted by one three minute outburst, during the evening. But, when Banda assumed the responsibility the members quieted down, and all was friendly.

Banda explained that he had authorized the printing of the Mickey Report in the belief that it was THE report of the Planning Board.

Only three days elapsed between the hearing on Apartment House Zoning and the time that the committee had to complete their report. The report was completed Sunday night, and Banda, Monday morning when he authorized the printing, thought it was that report.

The report had been prepared by member Melvin Bloom, and he showed it to Banda. Not knowing that the other members were preparing the 'regular' report, and seeing that the 'Mickey' was in fact another restatement of the

SELECTMEN JOYLESS ABOUT BALDWIN INVITE

The Board of Selectmen, meeting Tuesday night because of Monday's holiday, agreed that they did not to have anything to say, at the Baldwin Civic Meeting, which has been called to 'air' the tax rate discussion started by Paul Niles and Charles Burt.

The meeting was one of the calmest in months. Selectman John Brooks was absent, and there were no controversies.

Selectman Lloyd Bender was the only one of those present who signified any willingness to talk about the tax rate controversy at the Baldwin meeting. He said that regardless of what the other members did, he was going to 'spectate if not participate' in the meeting. The Baldwin meeting is scheduled for Oct. 22nd, at 8 pm in the High School cafeteria.

Bender's reason for willing to attend, and perhaps participate was that he felt that there may be information forthcoming, for which the Selectmen have been looking.

The Selectmen had been talking about the possibility of hiring an outside auditor. TM Bouchard had told the Selectmen that he had been in contact with the State Department of Corporations and Taxation asking that the State go over the figures in the controversy about the tax rate. Bouchard had suggested that the town hire an outside firm to 'audit' the papers involved. The cost he said, would be $150 to $200 a day, for a first rate consultant, and would probably take four days. Bouchard said that if there was any doubt in the Selectmen's minds it should be resolved. Chairman Rene LaRivee declared that the situation was serious.

Bender said that for the town to hire an auditor was just a continuance of color - and characterized the proposal as going from 'red herring to whitewash'.

The discussion started, Bender said, when he addressed five questions to the Board of Selectmen, which questions had been given to him by Niles and Burt. He told his fellow Selectmen that the questions had been asked without any personalities, and that the vehemence and unpleasanties came with the replies.

Bender didn't feel it was necessary to hire an auditor. The answer to the questions, he said, had appeared in last week's Town Crier in the letter by Stanley Webber.

BRAD MORSE COMING NEXT THURSDAY

Congressman Brad Morse will visit Wilmington next Thursday, as he makes a tour of Wilmington plants in company with Selectman Lloyd Bender.

Morse will visit Avco, Photon, Sweetheart Plastics, Diamond Salt, the Fire and Police Stations and the Town Hall.

$2114 COMING FROM HOUSING AUTHORITY

For the past several weeks tax payers of Wilmington have been going into the Town Hall, offering to pay taxes to a town that has as yet been unable to send out its tax bills.

The banks, too, are offering to pay their money which they hold in escrow, for taxes, from their mortgagees.

But the tax collector has to refuse the offers, much to the bewilderment of some of the taxpayers.

The town cannot collect taxes until after it has sent out its tax bills. It cannot send out its tax bills until Town Counsel Philip Buzzell and Atty (and former Town Manager) Joseph F Courtney agree that the time has come - and they will not agree, under the present circumstances until there has been a decision by the Supreme Judicial Court on the suits entered against the town alleging that there has been an over-assessment of lands zoned for industry and commerce. The town, so far, has borrowed $1,900,000 to keep itself in business, and pay the teachers, policemen, and highway department employees, as well as the town hall and other employees.

The town will probably have to borrow more money, before the case is settled, and the bills can be sent out.

But there is a ray of hope -- a slight one.

Tuesday night, in the Wilmington Housing Authority meeting, the members of that board voted to return to the town the sum of $2114.50, money that is left over after all bills have been paid on the former Veterans Housing on Wildwood Street. They also voted to pay the sum of $2352.50 to the state, as its share of the last surplus.

But even then there was a slight hitch. The members of the WHA had been reading the papers.

They decided that the best thing to do was to present the money, in person, and before witnesses.

Next week sometime, the members will go to the town hall, and make their presentation in person.

Next week, too, sometime or other, the town will actually receive some money, $2114.50, which it can use for the payment of assorted teachers, highway department employees, policemen, or other employees!

BOARD OF APPEALS DECISIONS

The Board of Appeals granted four requests for variances, in decisions handed down on Sept. 9th. All four cases were heard on August 4th, in the Town Hall.

Joseph and Jacqueline Peters were granted a variance on Lot 119, Ferguson Road, and a permit to erect a dwelling there. The lot of land did not meet the depth requirements of the Zoning By-Laws at all points. There were no objectors at the public hearing.

Morris Modelle, of Salem St. was granted a variance for a lot of land on which he has had two houses for some years.

Mr. Modelle had wanted to sell one of the homes, but found that he could not, because it against the present zoning by-law to have two homes on one lot. He had sought to divide the land into two lots, but could not get a legal sized lot for either home, in that case.

Mr. Modelle told the Board of Appeals that when he built the second home, in 1949, it was then legal. He had owned the land since 1935.

The board granted a variance on both lots.

Maneul Amaro, 25 Chalk St. Cambridge, was granted a variance to erect a dwelling on a lot on Forest Street, the lot having less than the required depth.

Testimony showed that the lot had 23,175 square feet of land, or more than the required 22,500.

There were no objectors, and the appeal was granted.

The Clipper Barber Shop, at the Wilmington Plaza, was granted the right to have a sign on the store front 14 feet long and 2 1/4 feet high, in a routine hearing relative to signs. There were no objectors.

THIS STEEPLEJACK WAS JUST THAT! Steeplejacks are riggers who climb to high places to work, but the steeplejack who repaired the steeple on the Congregational Church Monday, was really living up to his profession!

GREER HAS ACQUIRED EQUIPMENT ENGINEERS FROM E. M. NOEL CO

The J. W. Greer company of Main Street, makers of automatic food processing equipment, has purchased the manufacturing assets of Equipment Engineers, Inc. from the E M Noel Company of Cambridge. Greer also purchased the patents covering automatic and continuous equipment and processes for the production of English muffins and similar products. It was completed on Sept. 15th.

The new company will be operated as a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Greer company and will be known as Noel Equipment Inc.

Equipment Engineers, as a subsidiary of E M Noel Company, developed and manufactured a specialized line of automatic muffin making equipment. By adding the Noel equipment to their bakery line and broadening its application in the baking industry, Greer will enable bakers to produce high-profit specialty items, such as tea cakes, biscuits, English muffins, scones, and pizza shells.

Mr E M Noel, widely known and highly respected throughout the baking industry, will continue to sell Noel equipment as an independent sales representative of Greer.

"The letter", he said, "was a good logical analytical approach to the problem".

Juror

Edmund Kindred, 18 Jere Road, had his name drawn, to be a juror at the Cambridge Court, Criminal session.

Shipyard Luncheon

Chairman LaRivee had received an invitation to a luncheon and meeting at the Boston Naval Shipyard, which he was unable to accept. He felt, however that the shipyard was of importance to the people of Wilmington, and that the Selectmen should support efforts to retain it in operation.

Voting Machines

A letter was received suggesting a demonstration of a voting machine, for Wilmington. Bender wanted a demonstration of the machine on Nov. 3rd, Election Day Mrs Drew was not in favor of a voting machine, saying that it only caused confusion, and that they could be just as crooked as things are today. Black said that the voting machine was a 'coming thing of the future'.

Woodland Road

The question of joining Woodland Road and Ledgewood Road, which are only 18 inches apart at their respective ends, was again discussed. Three weeks ago the Selectmen had asked, in a letter to the town counsel if the Board of Selectmen had any right to enter upon a subdivision which is under the control of the Planning Board? Woodland Road being a part of a development, and not yet accepted by the town.

Selectman Brooks had asked the question, and as he was not present the board voted to lay it on the table, after which Bender suggested that the Selectmen call Mr. Buzzell, and explain the situation. Mrs Drew volunteered to make the call.

Town Dump

A complaint from Ruth Landry, 826 Main Street, saying that debris from the town dump was blowing into her yard, called for a short joint session with the Board of Health.

Chairman Walker told the Selectmen that the operator of the dump is allowed to burn certain types of debris on Monday mornings, except when it is too windy, and that the fire is started at about 5 am and is over by 8 am.

Very rarely does the debris go out of the dump area, Walker said. Sanitarian Ernie Romano had visited Mrs Landry, Walker said, and had discussed the situation, and had shown a copy of the contract under which the dump was being operated.

Police Training

The Board received a letter of invitation from Governor Peabody to attend the graduation exercises at the Police Officers training school, on Oct. 23rd.

Bouchard told them that officer James Cuoco would be graduating from the school, and that officer Vernon Randall is at present enrolled in the school. He added that he would like to see the Police Training program continued.

LaRivee and Bender said they planned to attend the graduation

Gravel permit denied

A letter from an attorney, asking for an appointment to discuss the possibility of a gravel pit on a 52 acre lot off Aldrich Road received short shrift from the Selectmen. They denied any opportunity, saying that the area was zoned for residential.

Cadillac Ambulance

Bids were received from three companies for the purchase of the old 1956 Cadillac Ambulance. It was voted to be sold to the Alpine Ambulance Service of Lowell, who had bid $300.

Veterans Account

The board voted to request the transfer of another $5000 to the Veteran's Account, bringing the total to date to $60,000

Brentwood Avenue

A complaint of three weeks ago that there was a junk yard on Brentwood Avenue was brought up for discussion by Bender. Black suggested that the autos in question be assessed as 'Personal Property. Mrs Drew reported that there was a similar situation on Federal Street.

TM Bouchard said that during the Chamber of Commerce Cleanup Week of last spring about 150 junk automobiles had been taken away.

Chief of Police Lynch, by letter, said that there been no complaints about selling of parts, from the Brentwood Avenue site.

Bender noted that there was no violation of the zoning laws involved, and TM Bouchard suggested that perhaps a by-law prohibiting junk yards might be wise.

Milk Processing Company

During the past month various persons have been receiving a letter from a Boston entrepreneur, suggesting the establishment of a Milk Processing company in the North Industrial District in Wilmington. Some of the information has not been clear, and Bouchard told the Selectmen that he had been trying to clarify the situation. It seems that there would be a need for municipal sewerage, which, it was brought out, would mean an expenditure of some millions of dollars.

"We have reached a point where we are reluctant to jump in with both feet, as far as industry is concerned!" Bouchard stated.

The person making the proposal will probably meet at a later date with the Selectmen.

Personnel

Selectman Black reminded the Board that the Group Insurance question of last year was something that should again be on the ballots, for next March's town meeting, and suggest that the Town Manager prepare information necessary.

Bender then suggest that the Board incorporate in their agenda a discussion of the personnel regulations, and also a discussion on the evaluation of of One Man and Two Man Police Patrol operations. He suggested that the two subjects be discussed at separate meetings. The board agreed to meet on Tuesday Oct. 27th to discuss Personnel Regulations, and on November 10th to discuss Police Operations report by Planning Consultant Sam Snow on the Apartment proposals, Banda approved.

MICKEY REPORT

He told the Planning Board members that he realized that something was wrong, in the Town Meeting, and that he purposely avoided the other members so as to not start a controversy in public.

After the 'Mickey' was approved by Atty Banda, Mr Bloom had had it printed at his place of business, for a cost of under $5.

No More Mickies

The discussion began early in the meeting, during a three minute lull, with Bob Evans starting the discussion, and James Miceli moving for an Executive Session, on the ground that there might be personalities involved 'It had nothing to do with me' he declared, Danny Gillis assured Miceli that it wasn't personalities but problems that interested the board. Mr Bloom and Mr Evans then discussed the facts of the case at some length, considering that only three minutes was available to talk.

During the interchange Evans charged that Bloom had been assisted by the Town Manager in the writing of the report - a statement which Bloom denied.

Gillis characterized the position as being 'a bad situation as I have run into since 1955' referring to the fact that there were two reports from the Planning Board. Bloom said that he felt that the public was entitled to know that the Planning Board had disapproved of apartment houses, even though he felt somewhat in favor of them.

Mr Gillis and Mr Evans kept the entire board should act together and Gillis added a phrase 'Creeping Dictator Policy'.

It is the first time, he declared, since I have been on the board that a thing like this has happened. I voted against Urban Renewal, and was the only member to do so, yet I went out and worked for Urban Renewal when the rest of the board voted in favor!

In the after-midnight session Chairman Banda, after assuming all the blame, said that it was apparently a misunderstanding, and added that a member had been to see people on the Board of Selectmen, Finance Committee and the Town Manager about this.

Jim Miceli picked up the remark. 'You are saying that a member of this board went to see those officials---?'

Banda re-iterated, and added: 'I am not going to name him'

Evans: You couldn't blame people for being surprised. -- As far as 'leaks' - anybody could sit in the Town Meeting and watch us and guess that there was something afoot!

Banda: If an error was made I made that error. Take it out on me!

Evans: I object to the fact that any member can pass out things in the Town Meeting without the other members knowing. This can be a very dangerous thing!

The discussion turned to the possibility that some member may want, at some time, to issue a minority report, and all agreed that there was nothing against the idea. Evans pointed out that he had issued a minority report, when he served on a Chamber of Commerce committee that was investigating the industrial land tax situation. What he was objecting to was the report handed out in the Town Meeting said 'Wilmington Planning Board' and was not to be understood as a 'Minority Report'.

For all practical purposes (although the members kept on talking for over half an hour afterwards) the discussion of the Mickey Report ended when everybody agreed that it would never happen again.

Other Items

A P Rounds, developer of the Hathaway Acres area, was in to discuss the planning of the last section of the Acres. It is planned to have another road connect with the Esquire Estates section of North Wilmington, and adjacent to that road are several lots of land which the Planning Board is setting aside for future playgrounds, if the town should vote to buy the lots.

Evans observed that the Planning Board had been setting aside lots in the various developments for years, but that the town never gets around to buying, and Mr Rounds said that the trouble was that the streets, water and other work would have been completed long before the town gave up, and it meant cutting up paved streets to put water lines into the houses that would be built subsequently.

'You put in the water main, and then three years later you tear up the street' he said.

Anthony Avenue, in the Signore Development, came in for discussion, with James Miceli observing that it was in 'deplorable condition'

It is a street which is being developed by another firm, not the firm that originally developed the area.

The new firm is building about 10 homes, and also finishing off Barbara Avenue, complete with sidewalks, in an agreement that was made with the assistance of Atty Honeywell, of the Town Counsel's office.

Mr. Honeywell was trying to salvage what he could for the town of a $5000 bond which had been put up at the time that the Signore development was started.

The Town Engineer, Alphonse Savignac, told the Board that the Anthony Avenue paving had been laid according to specifications, which called for a 12 inch gravel fill, and then a penetration coat of oil.

'If you add more oil you'll just make it worse' he told the Planning Board.

The bond put up by the present developers is $7500. Evans suggested that it not be released until all the work had been completed. 'We don't have to release it until the very end - to do otherwise would be a very dangerous thing'.

Danny Gillis, who was reading the agreement, made several years ago, pointed out that it specified that the streets shall 'be uniform'. He read more: Agrees that they shall take 12 months to complete the job - the date was November 1962.

The Planning Board agreed to hold up the bond, and so voted.

The Board agreed that, in a future agenda, it would discuss the idea of having Sam Snow of Lexington appointed a Permanent Advisor to the Planning Board. Mr. Snow has been doing several bits of advisory work for the board during the past year, including the report on the Apartment Housing situation.

If he is to be hired as a permanent advisor his salary as such will start next year.

TM's Request

Town Manager Gerald Bouchard was present for a portion of the meeting, after the Selectmen had finished for the evening.

He requested that the Planning Board be sure that it finish its report on Apartment Housing before the annual Town Meeting of next March, with a 'solid policy' and a 'proposed enactment' if the board should vote in favor of apartment housing.

Banda told the Town Manager that the Planning Board has to meet with other boards to iron out problems.

Bouchard: Any recommendations you make should be conditioned on the town's having an adequate building code. I think that the townspeople have a right to expect that this board will make a recommendation by the time of the March Town Meeting - one way or the other.

Later he said: 'You can forget the building code - or problems about the sewerage. The building code is another committee, and the sewerage should go the way that was recommended a few years ago. I would have told the townspeople, if I had to, that the proposed sewerage was not in conformity with the Master Plan and would have added to the maintenance costs. -- Come next March you should be in a position to say Yes - or No.

Banda: Our aim is to tie up all the ends - regardless of the building code. The National Code is not enough, and the Board of Appeals is not happy on having to make some of the rulings on Garments.

Miss Helen Irene Allen, daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert E Allen Sr of Wilmington, and Frank Elias Swain, son of Mr and Mrs Frank Nunes of Wilmington were married at a nuptial mass, in St. Thomas Church, on Sept 7th by the Rev. Paul Berube. The couple received the Papal Blessing from the Pope.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of imported chantilly lace, in traditional styling. A fitted lace bodice was accented by a square neckline sprinkled with crystals and pearls, and long pointed sleeves. Her bouffant skirt featured scalloped lace and a short chapel train. Her matching crown of pearls and crystals were tiered with a bouffant veil of pure silk English illusion. She carried a white missal covered with a white orchard and streaming stephanotis. Her maid of honor was Miss Carolyn R Sullivan, and the Misses Virginia M Allen and Leslie Pinto, all of Wilmington, were the bridesmaids.

The attendants were attired in blue green brocade, in an Empire gown, featuring a square neckline, bracelet length sleeves, and Dior bows at the back waistline.

The sheathe front skirts were enhanced by a full pleated back. Headpieces of matching roses in a cluster design, with pearls and velvety leaves in their bouffant veils. They carried flower pieces of spider mums and lemon leaves to match their gowns.

Mr Philip Sullivan of Wilmington was the best man, and the ushers were Thomas E Allen Sr. of Reading and John Wesley Wandell Jr of Wilmington.

Mrs Thomas Allen of Reading was in charge of the guest book at the reception, held in Elks Hall in Tewksbury.

Following a honeymoon in New York, the couple will reside in Burlington.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY Celebration for Mr and Mrs Adrien Durkee was celebrated Sunday in the Legion Hall.

the center of the picture, and beside Mr Durkee is the Maid of Honor at the wedding of 50 years ago - Mrs Louise Croteau O'Brien.

garet Surrrette, neice to Mrs Durkee; Mrs O'Brien; Mr and Mrs Durkee; and Mr and Mrs J Ellis Doucette of Nabnasset. Mrs. Doucette is Mr. Durkee's oldest sister.
